

Privacy policy

This privacy policy sets out how we use and protect any information that you enter when you use this website.

We are committed to ensuring that your privacy is protected. Should we ask you to provide certain information by which you can be identified when using this website, then you can be assured that it will only be used in accordance with this privacy statement and the following data protection laws; the Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act of 1996 (HIPAA) Privacy and Security Rules, 45 C.F.R Part 160-164, and the Health Information Technology for Economic and Clinical Health Act (HITECH), P.L. No. 111-005, Part I, Title XIII, Subpart D, 13401-13409, and state privacy laws.

We may change this policy from time to time. Any such changes to this Privacy Statement will be promptly communicated on this page. Continued use of our sites after receiving notice of a change in our Privacy Statement indicates your consent to the use of newly submitted information in accordance with the amended Privacy Statement. This policy is effective from 1st August 2012.

Collection of data

You can use our website without disclosing your personal data. You are not required to provide personal data as a condition of using our site, except as may be necessary to provide you a service at your request. When you use our website, data may be stored for various security purposes. This data may include the name of your internet service provider, the website that you used to link to our site, the websites that you visit from our site and your IP-Address. This data could possibly lead to your identification, but we do not use it to do so. We do use the data from time to time for statistical purposes, but maintain the anonymity of each individual user so that the person cannot be identified. In cases when personal data is provided to others to provide you products or services you have requested, or for other purposes you have authorised, we rely on technical and organisational means to assure that applicable data security regulations are followed.

What we collect

We collect personal data only when you provide it to us, through registration, completion of forms or e-mails, as part of inquiries or requests about the study in which you have chosen to provide the information to us. By providing your personal data to us you agree to such collection by us and a use according to this Privacy Policy.

Personal information collected on this website is limited to contact details provided by you.

The data we collect will only be used for the purpose of supplying you information about the study for which you have given your consent, except where otherwise provided by law.

What we do with the information we gather

Your personal information may be used for the following purposes:

1. Sent to a study team member in your area to enable them to contact you regarding your eligibility to join the study.

Personal information voluntarily disclosed will be used solely for the above-mentioned purposes.

We will not sell or otherwise transfer the personally identifiable information you provide to us at our Web sites to any third parties for their own direct marketing use unless we provide clear notice to you and obtain your explicit consent for your data to be shared in this manner.

Data retention

We do not store any information other than a reference e-mail address. All other information is directly forwarded to the study team member and not stored in any database. The collected e-mail addresses are kept until the end of the study.

Security

We are committed to ensuring that your information is secure. In order to prevent unauthorized access or disclosure, we have put in place suitable physical, electronic and managerial procedures to safeguard and secure the information we collect online.

How we use cookies

A cookie is a small file which asks permission to be placed on your computer's hard drive. Once you agree, the file is added and the cookie helps analyze web traffic or lets you know when you visit a particular site. Cookies allow web applications to respond to you as an individual. The web application can tailor its operations to your needs, likes and dislikes by gathering and remembering information about your preferences.

We use traffic log cookies to identify which pages are being used. This helps us analyze data about web page traffic and improve our website in order to tailor it to customer needs. We only use this information for statistical analysis purposes and then the data is removed from the system.

Overall, cookies help us provide you with a better website, by enabling us to monitor which pages you find useful and which you do not. A cookie in no way gives us access to your computer or any information about you, other than the data you choose to share with us.

You can choose to accept or decline cookies. Most web browsers automatically accept cookies, but you can usually modify your browser setting to decline cookies if you prefer. This may prevent you from taking full advantage of the website.

Controlling your personal information

We will not sell, distribute or lease your personal information to third parties.

For questions or if you wish us to amend or delete your profile, please contact us in writing (by post or email), as follows:

You may request details of personal information which we hold about you. If you would like a copy of the information held on you please write to;

Sub-processor
Langland, Quadrant, 55-57 High Street,
Windsor, Berkshire, SL4 1LP, England, United Kingdom

or email privacy.policy@langland.co.uk.

If you believe that any information we are holding on you is incorrect or incomplete, please write to or email us as soon as possible, at the above address. We will promptly correct any information found to be incorrect.